

Digital Archives Course Design Workshop

Host : Office of International Online Education,
University of Tsukuba
Co-host: National Cheng Kung University

A movement is underway to assemble new educational programs by utilizing various online educational content, and educational projects such as MOOCs and online universities are attracting students from all over the world.

In this workshop, participants will learn how to use design thinking methods to construct valuable educational courses from digitally archived resources.

On October 24, participants will learn the methodology as a "lecture section".

On October 25, there will be a "Practical Session" where participants will apply the theory to design an actual course. You can participate in either one or both.

- Eligible Participants: Faculty, Staff, and Students of University of Tsukuba
- lecturer: Chih-Wei Shin, Professor at National Cheng Kung University
Hao-Ven Wang, Professor at National Cheng Kung University
Chung-Ching Huang, Assistant Professor at National Cheng Kung University
- Coordinator: Ryosuke Ohniwa, Professor at University of Tsukuba Department of Educational Promotion, Director at Office of International Online education

Part1 - Lecture Session

Oct 24(Thu.)

Laboratory of Advanced Research A #107

Language: ENGLISH

9:00-9:30
Reception

9:30-9:40
Opening Remarks

9:40-10:30
Identifying Teaching Challenges and Course Ideation

10:30-12:00
Applying Design Thinking to Course Design

Entry Form

<https://forms.gle/G6RvXmxPRKGareYJ9>

Part2 - Practical Session

Oct 25 (Fri.)

Laboratory of Advanced Research A #108

Language: ENGLISH

9:30-10:00 Reception

10:00-10:20 Opening/Orientation

Welcome and workshop rundown explanation

10:20-11:00 Identify connecting core courses

Workshop participants identify potential connecting core course according to the following criteria: 1. ability, 2. literacy

11:00-12:00 Identify theme

Workshop participants rank possible course theme, such as: 1. Cross-Cultural comparison, 2. marine preservation

12:00-13:00 Lunch break

13:00-14:00 Forming course series

Workshop participants arrange course into course series, based on the discussion in the morning

14:00-15:00 Discussion

Propose future course development strategy based on the earlier discussion and bridging the miss gap

Entry Form

<https://forms.gle/787qT56X7pMcaTba6>

Inquiry (email) jvc-renkei@un.tsukuba.ac.jp

Office of International Online Education, University of Tsukuba

